Candidate Data Collection Statement

This data collection statement explains:

- What information we collect during our application and recruitment process;
- The relevant lawful processing condition for use of that information;
- How we use that information; and
- How long we will keep your information.

Types of Information we collect

This statement covers the information you share with us and/or which may be acquired or produced by the GTA University Centre (the GTA) during the application or recruitment process including:

- Your name, postal address, email address, mobile telephone number and other contact information;
- Your resumé or CV, cover letter, previous and/or relevant work experience or other experience, education or other information you provide to us in support of an application and/or the application and recruitment process;
- Information from interviews and screenings you may have, if any;
- Details of the type of employment you are presently pursuing or may be looking for, current and/or desired salary and other terms relating to compensation and benefits packages or other job preferences;
- Details of how you heard about the position you are applying for;
- Any sensitive and/or demographic information obtained during the application or recruitment process such as information about your citizenship and/or nationality and medical or health information;
- Reference and health information and/or information received from background or criminal records checks (where applicable), including information provided by third parties; and/or
- Information relating to any previous applications you may have made to the GTA and/or any previous employment history with the GTA.

Lawful processing condition

The processing of personal data throughout the recruitment process will be necessary for and as a result of steps taken by yourself with a view to entering into an employment contract with the GTA. The only exception would be where there exists a legal obligation on the GTA.

How we use the information we collect

Your information will be used by the GTA for the purposes of carrying out its application and recruitment process that includes:

- Assessing your skills, qualifications and interests against our career opportunities;
- Verifying your information and carrying out reference checks and/or conducting background checks or criminal records checks (where applicable) if you are offered a job;
- Communications with you about the recruitment process and/or your application(s), including, in appropriate cases, informing you of other potential career opportunities at the GTA;
- Complying with applicable laws, regulations or other legal duties;
- The GTA may also use service providers acting as data processors on the GTA's behalf to perform some of the services described above including for the purposes of shortlisting, verification and/or background or police checks. These service providers are located in the Channel Islands;
- All your information will be considered confidential. The GTA will not use or disclose your information except as provided for in this statement or if disclosure is required to fulfil a legal obligation; and
- It is your responsibility to obtain consent from referees before providing their personal information to the GTA.

Retention of your Information

The GTA will retain your information for the following period(s):

- If unsuccessful for the role(s) you have applied for, 3 months after receipt of your initial application; or
- If interviewed for a post, 6 months from our last contact with you. Information retained for this period will include interview notes, interview questions and answers and any other relevant information supplied by you;
- If you are offered and accept employment with the GTA, the information collected during the application and recruitment process will become part of your employment record. Full details of the GTA records management policy will be made available to you at that time.
